

Global Warming Deception – The Hidden Agenda

Grant R. Jeffrey

Humanity faces an unprecedented danger – the global warming crisis. Our social, economic, and political freedoms now face the greatest threat in our generation.

The danger is the massive “global warming alarmist” campaign that attempts to impose socialistic globalist control over nations, businesses, and your lifestyle.

Globalists and socialists present their progressive agenda as the answer to the perceived threat of manmade global warming. Anthropogenic Global Warming (AGW) alarmists claim that increasing global temperatures are caused primarily by CO₂ emissions from fossil fuels.

The former Czech President, Vaclav Klaus, who grew up under communism, warned that the environmental movement has been hijacked by socialist-communists who see this “green movement” to save earth as the perfect way to disguise their real agenda: to enslave their fellow citizens through environmental laws and regulations that will control every aspect of your life, work, and your freedom.

He wrote: “Today’s debate about global warming is essentially a debate about freedom. The environmentalists would like to mastermind each and every possible (and impossible) aspect of our lives.”

The globalist think tank, the Club of Rome, published in 1993 “The First Global Revolution” that clearly outlined the global elite’s plans to use the invented crisis of “global warming” to stampede humanity toward their hidden goal – global socialist government. The chilling language reveals the cynical propaganda plans of those who seek to impose global socialist government on everyone.

“In searching for a common enemy against whom we can unite, we came up with the idea that pollution, the threat of global warming, water shortages, famine and the like, would fit the bill. In their totality and their interactions these phenomena do constitute a common threat which must be confronted by everyone together...”

Global warming policies will inevitably reduce our standard of living while creating massive new regulatory powers over our private lives and business.

Will the UN IPCC’s proposed solution to decrease CO2 significantly reduce the global temperature by 2100? The answer is NO!

Scientists who support the Kyoto climate policies admit the proposed reduction of CO₂ over 90 years will reduce expected temperatures by only 1/3 of 1 Degree F by 2100 after a century of massive economic deprivation and the lowering of American's standards of living.

The release of thousands of computer data files and emails from the UK's prestigious Climate Research Unit revealed exaggeration, data manipulation, and deletion of files that has caused many to question AGW alarmism.

What is the motivation to embrace radical policies of energy reduction, huge carbon taxes, and severe limitations of the economic freedom of governments, companies, and individual citizens? Peter Foster wrote in Canada's National Post: "Leftists are inclined to believe in climate change because its 'solutions' — central control and wealth redistribution — are things they already desire"

The UN's IPCC predictions of manmade global warming depend entirely on computer climate models that are unable to accurately predict future climate change.

General Circulation Models (GCM) being run at climate study centers are the best tools available to calculate primarily how increases in carbon dioxide might impact future temperature levels between now and 2100.

Although the sun is the major energy engine of our solar system, the computer climate models cannot yet account for solar radiation. However, attempting to accurately predict the earth's future climate in 2100 without accounting for the influence of clouds, volcanos, El Nino, and solar radiation is virtually impossible.

Humans produce only 3% of the carbon dioxide annually. Even the UN IPCC admits that if humanity were to totally cease burning fossil fuels the reduction of CO₂ would not significantly lower temperatures.

The EPA's false declaration that CO₂ is a pollutant allows the government to regulate, tax, and control every aspect of your life.

Humanity's contribution of carbon dioxide is so small that it is virtually impossible that our use of fossil fuels is the major cause of the perceived growth of global temperature by 1 Degree F from 1860 till 1997.

Since 1998 the global temperature has continued to cool every year!! Professor Phil Jones, head of the UK's prestigious Climate Research Unit, was quoted in the Daily Mail, Feb. 14, 2010: "...in the last 15 years there had been no 'statistically significant' warming."

Remarkably, the continued cooling was not predicted by any of the UN's IPCC computer climate models and has virtually erased the entire global warming that occurred during the last century returning global temperatures to the 1900 level.

It is certainly time to pause and re-evaluate our climate science assumptions and proposed energy policies.
